

ON PURPOSE

Marriage Enlightened
Ephesians 5:22-33
February 7, 2010
Brandon Porter

This passage is not about the inferiority of women or the superiority of men.

This passage is about faithful obedience to God's plan for marriage.

God has given husbands and wives different, but equally important roles in marriage.

For the wife...

Loving your husband means you willingly follow his leadership.

Following the leadership of your husband is a display of the church's relationship to Christ.

Loving your husband means you show that you value your husband's leadership.

For the husband...

Loving your wife means you hold her in high regard.

Loving your wife means that you express your affection for her.

- A husband's love is expressed by sacrificing for his wife.

- A husband's love is expressed by helping his wife grow in her love for Jesus.
- A husband's love is expressed by guarding his wife's true beauty.
- A husband's love is expressed by treasuring his wife.

Real Life Application

Did you realize that there was not an "if" in this passage?

- Husbands and wives should live this way to please Christ and to be obedient to Him. The determining factor is not whether or not your spouse is treating you the way you wish they would.

Did you realize that marriage is a picture of the Gospel?

- Do you treat your marriage as a real witness of Christ's love to the church? Would your children, family, fellow church members and neighbors see the love of Christ in your marriage?

Did you realize, husbands, how important it is to express your love to your wife?

Did you realize, wives, how important it is to show respect to your husband?
